

Walter the Ghast

Book 1

By Ender_Seth2

Hi, I'm a ghast. And I live in a nether fortress with some blazes (Ed, Ted and Fred) I also know some piglins (Tom, Jack and Rex. Now, things haven't always been like this. I was a villager once, I lived in a desert biome with my Wolf named Wolfy and my mum and dad but ever since Herobrine attacked my village I died and ended up here as a ghast. I spawned in the middle of a fortress and I decided to make it my home. Sooooooo, my life has pretty much been:

- Eat nether warts and mushrooms
- Go to sleep in my nether fortress
- Wake up
- Gather mushrooms and nether wart for breakfast
- Repeat

Yep. Pretty boring. On the plus side my friends have been putting together a library. We found an abandoned old fortress (Not even one blaze!) and we started putting together all the best Netherbooks.

Don't get me wrong, I love it here in the nether, Nice and cozy and warm with all my friends but I want to get back to the over world but every time I try to bash a hole in the roof I end up finding this STUPID stuff called bedrock. Yep that's the one! Annoying unbreakable rock! I wish I could escape and at least warn Steve about Herobrine. His plan is to destroy the whole world including Bedrock (well, at least that ANNOYING stone will be gone... buuut so will I) I go to bed that night thinking about Steve and herobrine. "I hope Steve can save the universe I mean what about my ocelot and my parents would die all because of that rotter Herobrine. In the morning I go over to ed's room and we talk about herobrine. "apparently herobrine and Steve can build PORTALS to this place from the overworld" he tells me we do a looooooot of planning and discussing herobrine and Steve finally we have a reasonable plan so we set off to find a nether portal.

We walk past some other ghasts and when they see us they jump up and start screaming at us! Ed explains that when you stay in the nether too long you forget how to talk and when you open your mouth to try to say "hello!" all that comes out is a nasty shriek and a fire ball. Poor guys! As we walk on we come across some hoglins! "Just don't even Blink" whispers Ed these guys can obliterate us in one hit! Then we see another sight that chills me to the bone (Wait, do ghasts even have bones?) a zoglin! (Zombie hoglin) "RUUUUUN!" yells Ed and we run (well, I float if you wanna get technical!) and we soon come to a ruined portal "We need some obsidian to finish this" says Ed Good job doctor obvious I say.

Then we hear snorting and groaning sounds coming from behind us, More Zoglins and hoglins! We also see about 4 endermen! Ed quickly jumps on my back and I fly up to a fortress and I spit fireballs at the bridge so the hoglins and zoglins can't get up (The endermen hadn't seen us yet) that's when we see it. A chest next to the ruined portal. "that chest might contain some obsidian or flint and steel" I say "lets go and have a look! So, we fly down (Ed on my back) and we go and land next to the portal. "err this might sound weird but I can't open the chest. I don't have any hands!" I say "don't worry I'll do it for you" says Ed "and yes that did sound weird! So, Ed uses one of his rods to open the chest. "What's in there?" I ask "Err cobwebs, crimson wood planks, shroomlights, BLAZE RODS??! And oh! Flint and steel!!!

We take it all except the blaze rods (Ed was too horrified) then we set out to find some obsidian. We don't walk far when we come across a piglin. "hello sir! I say do you by any chance know where to find obsidian in the nether?" "Oh, me know where obsidian is obsidian be in big portal underground! You need pickaxe to mine it!" "AUUG! Everything leads back to that damn portal!!!" I say. Does anyone have a pickaxe? "me have diamonds and crafting table?" says the piglin "and we have crimson wood to make sticks! I say so we craft a diamond pickaxe. Then I float over to the portal with Ed and we dig up some obsidian. Then we put it in the empty holes an add the final touch, flint and steel. FOOSH the portal crackles into life and we jump through (not the piglin) Building terrain

As we come out the other side of the portal I see a sea of blue stretching out in every direction. "Oh no! an ocean biome! This is bad! I hate water!!!!" Says Ed we are standing on a two-block obsidian ledge. Suddenly we see a red thing floating in the distance. "Looks like some kind of BOAT?" I say". a crimson boat! It's made out of the wood from a warped forest!!!" Man, how come you know so much Ed? I say I've just been alive for a long time and heard lots of rumors about these things!!!! He says. huh. "Well, do you want me to fly you over to it?" I say he says yes, so I do. When we get to the boat I see a chest with some iron swords and armor in it. "Err, how do you wear armor I mean you're a ghash!" says Ed "let's craft an anvil and make a few adjustments!" I say we have just enough iron to make me some Special Ghash armor. So, I put it on and I feel GREAT! Ed doesn't need armor because he is already super strong! (think about those clinking noises he makes when he takes damage Wow!)

I think about once we're done with our quest, maybe I could have DIAMOND Ghast armor! Boy now THAT would be cool! Maybe even netherite! "hello, Ed to Ghast can you hear me? Stop daydreaming and let's row the boat!!! There is 1 oar each so I grab the left one and Ed grabs the right. As we row across the ocean we notice a small island with something small and brown on it I squint at it "Ed can you see that small brown thing?" I ask "I think it's a crafting table" says Ed "maybe Steve left it behind? He's one of the only mobs who crafts except us" yeah true. Hey how about we craft a ghost sword while we're rowing? It could have an iron ring to fit around my body and when I go from side to side I swing it! I say "nice idea I can picture that grinned Ed so we get to work. Soon we have a ghost sword (iron) and we are on the island. We go over and see a small hut behind the crafting table. There is a sign that reads: Steve's house we go in and see a few maps and a chest, but no Steve.

“Hello dearies! Care for a cup of tea?” says an old lady voice. we both jump/fly up at least ten meters “he he, its ok dearies I won’t hurt you! We slowly turn around to see a witch. “Come to my small cottage and have some tea! You look tired dearies” she says and points to a small house in the middle of the swamp. “Err, we are on a quest to kill herobrine right now but maybe after?” says Ed. Suddenly the witch’s kind grin turns to an angry scowl. You will not harm master Herobrine! She says then throws a potion at us then disappears. At first, we don’t notice anything but then I see Ed. He kinda still looks like Ed but now he looks like a human? I look down at my tentacles and realize I have hands “We’re humans!!!!” we both shout. “well at least now we know that witches work for Herobrine” says Human Ed. “and we know that Steve AND maybe herobrine are close to us!” I say.

Well, maybe but we still don't see any sign of Steve and we're humans now. I say "ah yes but this may be a blessing in disguise" says Ed "now you can use weapons and so can I Plus no offence but your smaller now so we'll be stealthier" suddenly we see a storm brewing. It swirls into a gigantic face "I-I-Is T-that Herobrine?" whimpers Ed. "suddenly it begins to speak: "ah such foolish monsters why don't you go back to the nether where you belong! You cannot resist I, lord herobrine! This is a warning! Go home or I shall have to kill you!" then it disappears and its sunny once again. "Wow, that was scary" says Ed. We sit down to discuss whether this is a good idea or not. "Herobrine knows what we're doing so maybe we should go back to the nether?" suggests Ed. "No, that monster has killed too many people I want to get revenge on him! He stole my ocelot and nearly killed my parents!" I say "Woah dark bro! says Ed but all right! Let's get it done! So, we set off exploring the rest of the island.

Soon we see a minecart leading down into a dark hole. As soon as we step down there we see some Soul torches and some Stone bricks. Err what is this place? I ask. "It looks like an end city crossed with a stronghold?" Says Ed, for once, he looks unsure. All of a sudden, we see a blue light coming from the bottom of the stairs and moving up. We hide and soon we see a witch walking up the stairs. "well, maybe this place has something to do with herobrine?" I whisper to Ed. As soon as the witch passes we jump out behind her and ambush her with our swords. "Auug!" she yells before going poof. We take her cloak and look for another one. Once we have two cloaks we put them on and continue down the stairs. As we walk we talk about how cool it is to be human. We can mine, jump, run and even eat! This is SOOO cool!

As soon as we reach the end of the passageway we see more cobblestone stairs leading down. We also see a chest “lets go and grab the loot!” We both yell and we go and open the chest. As soon as we open it we fall down through a trapdoor “It was a triiiiiiiiiick!!!” yells Ed. Soon we are in a bedrock chamber. The entrance we fell through seals up with bedrock. All that is lighting the chamber is a few soul torches and the glow that Ed is emitting. Soon another chute opens up and a strange creature that looks like a white blaze with a black face and red eyes fall down. It says nothing but slowly starts getting closer and closer. Its so close we can feel its warm breath. “Mee... kill.. y-you... NOW!” it shrieks. We try to run but we can’t. everywhere we turn its just bedrock! The white blaze jumps on top of us “you... d-die NOW!” it screams. “Goodbye Ed its been good knowing you” I say.

Just then a flash of blue and brown comes in and kicks the blaze in the head. It shrieks in pain then falls to the ground lifeless. Hey guys, I see you've met 303 huh? Says a voice. I turn around and see Steve. "I learnt about him the hard way" he says. "Now let's get you outa here c'mon!" err I dunno if you've noticed but this is bedrock! I say "ah, well see those white looking things over there? They're called 303 rods. You can use them to craft a special kind of TNT that can blow this nasty stuff up. So, we craft the 303 TNT. We put it down then Steve lights one of the pieces with flint and steel. We all run to the other edge of the chamber just before the 303 TNT goes KA-DOOM! We build up with some cobblestone to the hole in the roof and we clamber out. Once were out we ask Steve some questions. It turns out that...

- Steve is trying to kill herobrine too
- He has heard about us and the legends go that we're warriors!
- This is Herobrine's secret hideout
- Herobrine is Steve's brother!

So, me, Steve and Ed walk in the direction of herobrine's office (Steve gave us the map) and we continue. Soon we come to a dead end with only one thing: a nether portal. "should we go through it?" I ask. "well I don't know what else we could do!" Steve says. We jump through the portal. We emerge in a place overlooking MY NETHER FORTRESS! but something is wrong. I see a giant grey shape hovering above a pool of lava. It slowly turns around and we see the most hideous creature ever. It looks like really big ghost with three heads and red eyes with rage in them. It looks at us then spits three fireballs one aims for Steve, one aims for Ed and one aims for me. We all dodge but if we'd stayed any longer we would have been fried. It screeches and suddenly all the ghasts in the nether float up to it. They all start shooting at us and this time we can't dodge them all. We all get hit at least 3 times it hurts a lot but then I have a brainwave. "jump on top of the normal ghasts! If we reach the 3 headed one we can hit that red bit! Who knows, it might be its weak point!"

I stumble onto a ghast it doesn't seem to be upset so I jump to the next one. Finally, I see the red spot on the ghast's head. I jump up and plunge my iron sword into it. It screams and then it falls down onto a netherack island in the lava. It hits its head then wakes up. "where am I?" it says. "Who are you? Last thing I knew herobrine was putting a mind control device into my brain" I jump down and ask it what its name is. "I'm ben" it says. "it sounds like herobrine was controlling you and making you attack all us!" I say. "yes, that is what happened. If I ever see him again I'll whip his face off!" "do you want to join us? we're trying to kill herobrine too!" I ask but before he can reply a blue figure floats down from the ceiling, eyes glowing white. "tut, tut, tut! Ben, I'm very disappointed in you! You shall all die now!" he says, Jump on me! Yells Ben. We all jump on Ben and he fly's up to the enderdragon. He shoots a fireball at its head but herobrine summons a 4-block bedrock wall to block it. Next, I jump up and plunge my sword into herobrine's head, well, I try to at least but he makes a shield out of magma blocks and it burns me. I have to jump back onto Ben! Suddenly I have an idea: "let's all attack him at once!" I yell. We fly and Steve jumps up and uses a diamond sword to attack herobrine. Meanwhile I throw a fire charge at herobrine (I still have some of my Ghast powers!!!) ed shoots some fire at herobrine and ben shoots a fire charge. Herobrine looks scared as we all attack him and the dragon. Suddenly the dragon roars then teleports away leaving herobrine above a pool of lava "NOOOOOOO" he yells as he falls then "POOF" he's gone. "Well, that was straight forward" says Ed. We all go down and see that there's a strange orange thing floating in the lava. It looks like a potion.

I pick up the potion it says "transformation mob potion"
"I think this will turn us back!" I say to Ed. We drink the potion and we instantly switch back to our nether forms.
"Ahh, that's better" I say. "Hey does anyone want to go and explore Herobrine's base? Asks Steve impatiently.
"Heck Yeah!" I yell. So off we go. Soon we get to a chamber made out of iron blocks and a yellow and black stripe going down the floor (danger symbol). We also see a bookshelf and a vault that says KEEP OUT on it. We look at each other then we go in. we see a giant room full to the brim with strange items like command blocks, barrier blocks, dragon eggs and MY OCELOT!!! I run over to him (his name is Jackson) and I give him a big hug. He has a special collar with a strange looking block stuck on it. It looks like a command block only its rainbow. I ask Jackson what it does and he nods then points at a block of planks. His eyes glow red and he shoots a laser been shattering the planks!

Wow! I say. "that cat's got skill" admits Steve. "That adventure was fun but I kind of wanna go back to the nether and relax" says Ed "yeah" I admit. So, me and Ed say goodbye to Steve and I pick up Jackson and we walk to the doorway. Once we walk out we see the familiar soul torch doorway with a stairway leading out. Once we get to the top we see sunlight flowing in. Steve builds us a nether portal and we go in. as soon as I touch the purple I reappear in my nether fortress, I look on the floor and see a strange object lying on its side. I pick it up and realize it's a Herobrine head! Once I pick it up it grows to the size of my head! I put it on and I look good! I know what I'll be dressing up as on Halloween! I show my friends and they think it looks cool! I have had such a great adventure! THE END!
